SICK TRANSIT

135 & 140

The Sick Transit is one of the most easy to ride boards on the market today. Its step down rail helps it sit slightly higher on the water to aid traction and lift in the water. With a smoother transition, crisp edge hold, and a clean arc feel into the wake, this board makes all riders more comfortable regardless of skill level. The 2.5" staged hybrid rocker makes transfers into the wake much easier and the outer molded fins help lock the edge and drive control to the limits.

LxO

138 & 142

The LxO Flex Series was built to take a beating at cable parks and every winch obstacle known to man. LxO stands for Live Outside which is a principle and lifestyle that we feel very strongly about. Wakeology team rider Logan Farris headed the LxO project and the entire team has adopted its meaning and purpose. So, in a world where we are always plugged in, we encourage you to unplug and Live Outside! Buy a winch, get a cable park pass, plant a tree, recycle something, and shred the LxO.

STOKE

132, 137 & 142

The Stoke is a well balanced ride with a clean consistent pop off the wake. A slightly rolled concave across the center helps break up some turbulence on the water. The moderate molded-in fins provide the traction and stable feel needed to lock on edge and accelerate into the wake when needed. With a sharper end rail and a mellowed side rail, the Stoke transitions well edge to edge and carries speed nicely into the wake. A strong pop off the wake and a softer landing out into the flats makes the Stoke a relaxed ride on the water to riders of all levels.
